

Chapter Sequencing

Put these events in the order in which they happened in the story, numbering them from 1 to 5. The first one has been done for you.

Ark explained why there were twenty Planet Earths.

Ark agreed to let the children return to their home Earth on one condition.

General Ark introduced himself to the children.

A little while later, the children found themselves in a metallic pod about to be deported.

The children were curious about the situation and asked General Ark lots of questions.
